INTERNET CONNECTIVITY

At the heart of all Convention technology needs is the internet access provided to the ballrooms and meeting rooms. The internet pipes are serviced by redundant high-speed connections ranging in bandwidth from 150 MB to 300 MB per second. These connections are made via redundant fiber links directly to the carrier from two different facilities. The internet data will then traverse a fully redundant and routed gigabit backbone network to each of the Convention sites. The final connection to the customer can be made either via fiber or Category 6 cabling on the show floor at speeds of 10 MB, 100 MB or 1,000 MB. In order to provide a higher level of convenience to the customer, wireless connectivity is available within all meeting and prefunction areas. Guests who wish to utilize our Business Services Center will also be able to take advantage of the same high-speed internet access being provided throughout the Convention Center.

High-speed wireless internet is included with the daily resort fee and can be accessed throughout the entire Park MGM property.

LAS VEGAS CONVENTION CENTER (LVCC)

The Las Vegas Convention Center is one of the most modern and functional facilities in the world — a 3.2-million-square-foot facility located within a short distance of more than 100,000 guest rooms. Operated by the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (LVCVA), the center is well-known among industry professionals for its versatility. In addition to more than two million square feet of exhibit space, 144 meeting rooms (more than 241,000 square feet) handle seating capacities ranging from 20 to 2,500. A grand lobby and registration area (more than 225,000 square feet) efficiently link existing exhibit halls with new exhibit and meeting rooms and allow simultaneous setup, breakdown and exhibiting of multiple events. The Convention Center is located at 3150 Paradise Road, Las Vegas, NV 89109. Visit the website by following the links at lvcca.com.

LAS VEGAS CONVENTION AND VISITORS AUTHORITY (LVCVA)

The Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority is the official destination marketing organization of Las Vegas and operates the Las Vegas Convention Center and Cashman Center. The LVCVA brings visitors to Las Vegas and Clark County by promoting tourism, conventions, meetings and special events.

The Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority is pleased to offer supplemental registration assistance provided by skilled, uniformed professionals including Supervisors, Interpreters, Office Personnel, Computer Typists, Bonded Cashiers and Clerical. Requests for personnel should be made in writing a minimum of 30 to 45 days in advance of the service date to help ensure adequate staffing will be available. Last-minute requests will be accepted on a case-by-case basis pending staff availability. Requests can be faxed, emailed or mailed to the Registration Office. Please note that a minimum of one Supervisor is required for every convention. When assigning personnel for a convention, it is LVCVA registration policy to schedule the same person in one position for the duration of the show when possible. For more information, visit their website at lvcca.com.

MEETING PLANNING TOOLS

For your convenience, below is a description of some of the more commonly utilized meeting room setups.

Conference

Sometimes referred to as a boardroom-style setup, participants are seated on all four sides of a table. For smaller groups (16 people or fewer), a single conference table is typically used. For larger groups, several 6' x 30" or 8' x 30" tables are often combined to create a solid rectangular table. The conference-style setup is often used for board meetings, committee meetings and other smaller functions at which interaction between participants is expected. This design also can be used for high-level food and beverage functions with a small number of guests. Conference-style seating requires about 30 square feet per person.

Schoolroom

Sometimes referred to as a classroom-style setup, long 18"-wide tables are positioned in front of rows of chairs facing the speaker. The tables usually abut one another, although tables that extend beyond the stage ideally should be angled toward the speaker in order to provide better viewing. Schoolroom-style is the best setup for situations in which the presenter is expected to do most of the talking and/or delegates must take notes, refer to material in binders or work on computer equipment. It's also the most comfortable design for very long sessions. Schoolroom seating requires about 21 square feet per person for up to 300 people and 17 square feet per person for more than 300 people.

Hollow Square

30"-wide rectangular tables are arranged in a square or other multisided design in which the center of the design is empty. Larger committee or board meetings of 17 to 30 people, at which interaction among attendees is important, can benefit from the hollow rectangle design. (Note: Avoid long, straight sections of tables over 12 feet long. Octagons and hexagons work well to improve sight lines among participants). Hollow square-style seating requires about 30 square feet per person.

U-Shape

Rectangular tables are positioned to form a "U." Seating is usually on the outside of the U, but it's possible to seat delegates on both inside legs of the U. The U-shape setup is often used for board of directors' meetings, committee meetings and breakout sessions involving audiovisual presentations because all attendees can see the AV when the screen is placed at the open end of the U. U-shape-style seating requires about 35 square feet per person.

Theater

Sometimes referred to as audience-style, chairs are lined up in rows facing the speaker. The rows can be straight, semicircular or herringbone (angled toward the front of the room). If space isn't an issue, it's best to offset each row so that delegates are not sitting directly behind one another. When attendees take on the characteristics of an audience (i.e., listening to a speaker or watching a slide presentation), theater-style is the most efficient setup. This design is also used to maximize the seating capacity of meeting rooms or allow the audience to be as close to the speaker as possible. It is not recommended for taking notes, referring to material in binders or any event at which food and beverage is served. Theater seating requires about 9.5 square feet per person.

Crescent Round

Attendees are seated at round tables — usually 60” or 72” in diameter. The two or three chairs in which delegates would have their backs to the speaker are removed, thus forming a “crescent” of seating facing the speaker. This design works well when you need to use a room for meals and for an educational session that immediately follows. It’s also appropriate for general sessions where attendees break into small discussion groups in the same room.

Banquet

Guests are seated at round tables — usually 60” or 72” in diameter. Banquet-style is the setup of choice for most meal functions. In addition, it’s appropriate for small committee meetings and small breakout or study groups involving group interaction and/or note-taking.

Additional Function Space Considerations

Receptions Approximately nine to 10 square feet per person for standard bars with light hors d’oeuvres.

60” Rounds Approximately 13.5 square feet per person with eight people per table. To figure out the maximum number of round tables per row, divide the length or width of the room by 10 feet. Note that any required aisles then need to be taken into account.

72” Rounds Approximately 13.5 square feet per person with nine people per table. To figure out the maximum number of round tables per row, divide the length or width of the room by 10.5 feet. Note that any required aisles then need to be taken into account.

Dance Floor Size

Number of people x 2.5 square feet per person assuming about 1/3 of the group is dancing at any one time.
(Example: 600 dinner attendees; $600 \times 1/3 = 200$; 200×2.5 square feet = 500-square-foot dance floor).

Basic Screen Size Recommendations

Up to 25 people: 60” x 60” screen
25–50 people: 70” x 70” screen
50–100 people: 84” x 84” screen
100–150 people: 96” x 96” screen
150–200 people: 7.5’ x 10’ screen
200–300 people: 9’ x 12’ screen
300–500 people: 10.5’ x 14’ screen
500–750 people: 12’ x 16’ screen
750–1,500 people: 15’ x 20’ screen

As audience size increases, additional screens will be required; the bottom of the screen should be at least 4’ above the floor. The first row of seats should be no closer than twice the height of the screen. The last row should be no further than eight times the height of the screen.

SAFETY & SECURITY

Our goal is to provide you and your group with the premier conference experience and assist you in maximizing your experience. The following guidelines are provided to help assure the safety of your group while at Park MGM.

Fire prevention is one of our primary safety concerns. Park MGM's convention area is equipped with a state-of-the-art fire prevention and sprinkler system with 24-hour monitor control by Park MGM personnel. In the event of a fire, call 37190 on house phone to report the incident. In order for the system to be fully effective, it is most important that there is no interference with sprinkler heads, fire extinguishers, fire hoses and fire exit doors. It is also important to assure that you never block designated emergency exits and pathways with displays, stanchions, freight or other materials.

Your Convention Services Manager must approve all displays and decorations. Mylar balloons are not allowed. All display decorations must be treated with fire retardant. Do not bring any fuels or flammable materials into the Conference Center without clearance from your Convention Services Manager.

Emergency evacuation notice will be given by a whistle alarm and a flashing strobe light. Listen for voice instructions over the public address system. Remain in your meeting area and evacuate if instructed to do so. Do not take escalators or elevators in an emergency evacuation. Use only the emergency stair exits. Park MGM Security will arrive on the scene to direct and assist. Follow all directions issued by a Park MGM Security officer.

SMOKING

Park MGM is 100% smoke-free. All rooms and suites, the casino, restaurants and bars, convention center, entertainment areas, corridors, common areas and pools are non-smoking. Smoking tobacco, pipes, vapes, e-cigarettes or any other substance is only allowed in designated areas on property.

If there is evidence of smoking, of any substance, in your room or suite, you will incur a minimum deep cleaning fee of $500, charged to your hotel account. Cleaning fees will be applied to smoking in any area other than designated smoking areas. Use of marijuana and/or hookahs is prohibited.

Designated smoking areas include: Rideshare Zone, located off the main lobby; NoMad Porte Cochere; and Central Park Terrace, located on the second floor of the convention center. Use of marijuana and/or hookahs is prohibited in these designated smoking areas.
